IRIS PRINTING – The IRIS (Intense Resolution Imaging System) is a state-of-the-art digital color printer capable of producing high-resolution color of unsurpassed quality and accuracy suitable for museum or gallery exhibitions. A unique technology creates a print by "giclée" (pronounced gee-clay; literally a "spray of ink") in which the IRIS transfers ink at a rate of 4 million, 15 micron droplets per second to paper or canvas. This results in a print of exceptional depth, saturation of color, and detail.
